POSTPONE DATE FOR BIG DEMONSTRATION

Charleroi-Ellsworth Day
Not to be Observed
on July 29

QUESTION OF POWER

Unable to Perfect Arrangements--Entries for Contests to be Received

Because of unexpected delay in getting arrangements for power completed for the Westside Electric Railways route through to Bentleyville, the celebration that was set for July 29 has been postponed, and no definite date set. The change has been made entirely necessary. Meanwhile preparations are still going on to make the Charleroi-Ellsworth day one of the biggest days in the histories of the various communities affected.

There will be a number of contests and races, and among them will be a bicycle race, a motorcycle hill climbing contest, canoe races, a two mile marathon race, a water battle and perhaps other things.

C. J. Howard has been appointed to receive the entries for the bicycle race. C. W. Albright, Jr., is to receive entries for the motorcycle hill climbing contest and H. L. Swithey is to receive entries for the canoe race and the marathon race.

A loving cup has been offered by John B. Schaefer to the winner of a water battle between the North Charleroi and the Charleroi firemen. This it is proposed to make an unusual feature.

The evening parade will be a big feature. For the organization appearing in line with the largest number of men $25 cash will be given. For the best decorated float there will be a $25 prize, with $15 offered as the second prize. A prize of $10 will be offered for the best decorated automobile. Capt. John K. Hein will have entire charge of the parade as marshal. The parade will be known as an illuminated parade and will be one of the leading events of the day.

MAN, BUGGY AND HORSE GO OVER EMBANKMENT

W. A. Lockhart, superintendent of the mines of the Pittsburgh Coal company near Huston, was badly bruised and cut Monday morning in going over an embankment when the burr came off the front spindle of the buggy in which he was driving. He was driving along the road to Huston when the wheel dropped off. The horse gave a jump, and buggy, horse and driver rolled over the embankment. Mr. Lockhart was on the under side when they alighted but managed to crawl out.

Money Here For Highways

Reported That $21,000 Will be Available for Washington County.

No statement could be made at the state highway office in Washington regarding the amount of money appropriated to the department in this district, but the work is being carried on as speedily as possible. Dispatches from Harrisburg state that the Washington county appropriation is close to $21,000. It cannot be determined how many men are working on the roads in this section until the pay rolls come in, but it is thought that close to 200 men are employed. The national pike is the only state road in this county not being worked. This road comes under a special appropriation.

WANTS TO PROVE SON DEMENTED

Mother of Jacob Taylor
Thinks He Did Not
Commit Murder

LOOKS FOR WITNESSES

In an effort to collect evidence that may help clear her son of the murder charge now pending against him in the Allegheny county court, Mrs. Taylor of Hopewood, mother of Jake Taylor, the youth accused of murdering little Florence Dove at Braddock the latter part of May, has been interviewing persons near her home who knew Jake as a child and who could throw light on the character of his mentality.

Mrs. Taylor was searching for former school teachers of Jake's who, she believes, can show that when accused of any wrong-doing he always admitted it, whether guilty or not. This she thinks will have weight with the jury in proving that the confessions which her son signed shortly after his arrest may have been frightened out of him in similar manner. He afterward repudiated his confession and assured his mother when she visited him in prison that he did not kill the little girl.

Mrs. Taylor was accompanied by her daughter and they managed to scrape together a little money while in this section by selling bunches of rhododendron for a nickel each. The accused boy has been deranged since birth. He peddled herbs and greens throughout the entire section and came to be generally known as "Sassafras Jake."

Dr. Gunsaulus and His Famed Chicago Choir Appear Today

DR. FRANK W. GUNSAULUS.

Tonight will be one of the biggest feature nights of the week's Chautauqua at the Chautauqua tent on the hill because of the appearance of Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus of Chicago, one of the foremost preachers and pulpit orators of America. Dr. Gunsaulus will lecture on "War Against War." Dr. Gunsaulus is pastor of the Central church of Chicago. Preceding his lecture his choir known as the Central Church Choir of Chicago will give a concert.

Carolineurs and Edwin Whitney Appear For Monday Evening Entertainment

"You may put it down as an incontrovertible fact that the man who has not respect for God hasn't respect for himself and the lack of respect for God and self is the basis of all our ills. What we need is less theology and more Christianity. We have a multiplicity of professed Christianity, but what we need most is a practice of Christianity."

This was one of the many sledgehammer blows dealt by Judge George D. Alden of Massachusetts in his celebrated lecture, "The Needs of the Hour" at the opening of the Redpath-Brockway Chautauqua assembly Monday afternoon. It was Judge Alden's third appearance in Charleroi.

In the course of his lecture, which was listened to by a large and appreciative audience, Judge Alden said that every age is guided by some dominating spirit. As evidence, he pointed to four distinct epochs through which this country has passed. First that of the Pilgrims, which was dominated by the spirit of conscience and

Trip Planned For To- morrow in Lieu of Big Banquet

ROUTE IS OUTLINED

Special Train to Convey Monongahela Valley Folk to Fairmont

Agents of the Monongahela division P. E. R. will tomorrow for the first time have the opportunity of inspecting the new Buckhannon and Northern route from the Pennsylvania state line to Fairmont, W. Va. A trip will be taken in lieu of the annual banquet of agents over the Monongahela division the Monongahela Road and the B. & N. to that point.

Superintendent A. G. Mitchell and Supervising Agent E. F. Krahmer will be in charge of the special train for agents that will leave Pittsburgh at 7:30 in the morning. Stops will be made at various points to take on agents. There will be from 30 to 50 in the party.

The special train will run through after passengers are gathered to Morgantown, W. Va., making few stops. There will be a brief halt at Morgantown and then the trip be continued to Fairmont, where dinner will be taken. The return trip will be made over practically the same route. From Charleroi those who will go will be J. B. Tussing, Charleroi agent; H. C. Yon, who is agent at the West-Brownsville Junction scales, and E. C. O'Hara, traveling agent.

The B. & N. line has not yet been opened in spite of the fact that the tracks have been in readiness for about a year. The reason for the delay was the passage of a law in West Virginia prohibiting a competing railroad from holding stock in another. The Baltimore and Ohio owned a fourth of the B. & N., and in the event of operation of the B. & N. would have figured in reality as a competitor. Other stock was owned by the New York Central and the Pennsylvania. The B. & O. stock has been disposed of, so that there remain few difficulties to be cleared away before the road can be operated.

OFFICE IS RANSACKED TWO TIMES

Second Burglary at Gallatin Post Office Nets
Thieves $52

STATE POLICE BUSY

For the second time within a year the Gallatin postoffice has been robbed. The methods of entering the building and blowing the safe were practically the same in both cases. The building was entered early Monday morning and $52.15, several deeds belonging to Postmaster J. H. Rath, a bank book, a check book and several other valuable documents taken.

The building was wrecked and papers, letters and packages strewn over the floor. Entrance was gained by forcing a window in the rear of the building. Nitro-glycerine was used in blowing the safe.

The robbers overlooked $15 which was lying on the floor covered with debris. They also overlooked several money orders which were in the safe.

The report of the explosion was heard by persons living in that vicinity, but they thought nothing of it. The robbery was first discovered by Postmaster Rath Monday morning when he went to open the postoffice.

Tomorrow and for the remaining days of this week his team will play at Pittsburgh. They are playing in Ohio today.

CAN'T SHIFT THE BLAME

Senator Boies Penrose very properly and very emphatically repudiates the charge that he has been holding up Democratic postoffice appointments in the western end of Pennsylvania. The charge has been made by A. Mitchell Palmer, Congressman and boss of the Palmer-McCormick faction of the Democratic party in the state. So states a Greensburg writer.

Palmer has dictated every post-office appointment so far made in Pennsylvania. He has trafficked in all the other Federal appointments, and the postmasters he has selected represent in pronounced form the Democratic faction of which he is the boss.

Many of those appointments have been unsatisfactory to the people directly concerned. Many of them represent only the bob-tail element in their communities, and in every such case Senator Penrose, chairman of the sub-committee of the senate which must pass upon appointments before confirmation has been urged to stop the appointments and in that way protect the people. In more than a dozen different cases throughout the western end of the state petitions in large bulk have been hurried to Senator Penrose and an army of investigators have been compelled to sift the charges filed against the appointees. In cases only where absolute unfitness is developed are the appointments held up. There have been comparatively few of these cases, although in many other cases vicious factional strife has been uncovered.

Senator Penrose has declared that his concern in appointments extends only to the best interest of the general public. He has not, he says, and will not take any part in the factional rows among the Democrats. Comparatively few Democratic appointments were made in this end of the state before the primaries. The reason, is obvious. Boss Palmer wanted the help of all the factionists. So far since the primaries comparatively few appointments have been made. Boss Palmer wants those votes in the fall, and his effort to shift responsibility to the shoulders of Senator Penrose has been very properly rebuked and repudiated.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

Since Secretary Bryan got his wires crossed on his Chautauqua engagements and his regular job, and mixed small talk that within a short time became stupendously big, the Chautauqua as an institution has come in for considerable advertising, most of it favorable and all of it free. This week Charleroi is getting its first taste, and judging from the first day's successes at the tent on the hill it will be something very much enjoyed.

The Chautauqua has been called the most democratic institution in America. If it wasn't democratic it wouldn't be anything, for any other kind of a combination similarly pretentious couldn't exist. It is something that cannot be duplicated or equaled—only copied.

It is the doubling of resources, as it were, that makes possible the high class of Chautauqua entertainments for small price. Compact circuits reduce expenses to a minimum.

The pure moral tone, the high standard in quality and the general spirit of democracy lend to the Chautauqua an air of attractiveness not shared by anything else. Chautauqua patronage is a patronage all its own.

Recreative facilities are afforded by the democratic Chautauqua. A week of it is a veritable vacation for those who seldom get away. This makes a valuable asset to a community.

To the local stars of the Chautauqua the credit of the week is simply a matter of time. The fact that a week of the Chautauqua is a vacation for those who seldom get away is a valuable asset to a community.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

If more men could only go as often as his suitcase his vacation would be nearly if not entirely a continuous performance.

Some umpires have actually been known to perform their duty satisfactorily, but never has a prize fight referee been anything else than crooked.

Huerta is afraid to appear in a hurry and scared to death for fear he won't get away in time.

No warm wave was forecast this week, but then you see the weather man was on his vacation.

When some fellows get a vacation they don't know what to do with it.

Pity those Huertistas. They have to go some place and that place is not home.

If Delaware had Pennsylvania's militia, the said militia would have to borrow a part of some other state for a camp.

An easterner is still explaining the law of gravitation. But we thought that had been given up long ago to find if electricity is "juice."

Between writing for the newspapers and answering gossip wonder just how Cristy Mathewson finds time to do any pitching.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The common opinion that John McGraw, leader of the victorious New York Giants, is a fighter holds true. That he will fight anything with anybody to gain a point is a fact well known to fans. In Pittsburgh recently he pulled off a stunt that won him an order from the field, and won him too the admiration and applause of the immense crowd thronging Forbes Field.

A decision was questioned, and the Giants were on the losing end. McGraw meandered up to the umpire, Byron, and held converse. Byron soon tired of the performance and was seen to nod his head angrily.

Finally he produced his watch. McGraw of course knew the meaning of that act and knew he had so many minutes to move or get ordered from the field. Instead of moving when the watch came from Byron's pocket, McGraw reached as though to receive it. Byron drew back naturally. McGraw gazed at him in apparent astonishment. There was more burlesque play. McGraw said never a word, but first looked wonderingly at the watch and then at Byron as though amazed. Byron gazed steadfastly at the watch. The grandstands shook with roars of laughter.

McGraw simply stood there going through his "horse play" until his time to leave the field. Byron with a jerk "sentenced" him. McGraw wearily walked toward the exit, grinning. But with the mighty chieftain went the plaudits of the crowd.

In the August Woman's Home Companion appears an article by William J. Cronie entitled "Every Girl Should Know the Right Way to Stand Sleep and Walk." Following is an extract from the article showing what his advice is as to the correct position in walking.

"The proper way to walk is with the foot almost flat so that the weight of the body at each step is distributed over the entire sole of the advanced foot. The heel should touch the ground first and foot point straight ahead. Do not attempt to stiffen the knees in military style, but let them give somewhat with each step; let the arms swing naturally at the sides and take a moderately long stride. If you do considerable walking and hold the body erect with the chest high, you need not worry about the correct way, because in order to cover ground rapidly you will strike the ground with the heel first and in a long walk anyone who toes out will observe that the point of the foot straight ahead."

A NURSE TAKES DOCTOR'S ADVICE

And is Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself, I was verging into womanhood, and from falling cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blessed with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot overestimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss EVELYN ADELIA STEWART, Euphemia, Ohio.

ALLEGED BEER AGENT HELD FOR HEARING

John Mazda, an Italian of near Midland No. 1, was placed under arrest Monday charged with conducting an agency for a brewery in a manner that had been ruled illegal by the Washington county court. Mazda furnished bail in the amount of $800 for a hearing Thursday. It is said that he had been taking beer orders for a brewery outside of Washington county and having his orders shipped direct to the purchaser.

ing the country. But let me tell you that it is this class of men who are responsible for the spirit that dominates this country today.

"But I want to go still farther. You can't reform your country until you first reform your state; you can't reform your cities; you can't reform your towns; and you can't reform your towns until you first reform yourselves. The one great need of the hour is an individual return to the sanity of honesty."

In the course of his lecture Judge Alden touched upon the divorce evil. When you have fewer unwise marriages, he declared, we shall have fewer divorces. Unlike many platform speakers, Judge Alden does not believe in long-winded lectures, particularly in hot weather. He spoke for about an hour and his auditors would gladly have listened several hours, so interested were they.

To the delight of a large first-day audience the Charleroi assembly of the Redpath-Brockway Chautauqua opened on schedule time Monday afternoon. The big auditorium tent, which is water proof and seats more than 2,000 people, was well filled. Every part of the excellent program was received with great enthusiasm and approval.

The musical recital of the Carolinians, with which the afternoon session was inaugurated was delightful to the extreme. Such versatility is seldom found among a group of entertainers. The Carolinians are made up of five men, who produce the richest, most pleasing harmonies from two hundred silver bells. They have been together for years and work with rhythmic precision.

"Not only do they play on the bells but they sing and their quartet singing is better than anything of the kind heard here in many a day. Charles Harding presides at the piano and the quartet is made up of Thomas Fannell, first tenor; A. James Laup, second tenor; Marion Fonville, baritone and Leon Felger, bass.

Monday night's program consisted of a grand entertainment of music reading and bell ringing by the Carolinians and Edwin Whitney, for years a member of the celebrated Whitney Brothers and known throughout the country as "the prince of entertainers."

Bertha Pratt King gave a lecture this morning on "The Worth of a Girl." This afternoon the program includes a concert by the quartet of the Central church of Chicago, and a reading by Miss Lucile Adams of Boston, Mass., on "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Tonight Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus of Chicago, Ill., one of the best known ministers in the world will lecture on "War Against War." His choir from the Central church will give a concert preceding the affair.

What Constitutes Success?

There are different standards of judging. John Wana maker ought to know something about it. He has attained hegemony in the business world where his opinion carry weight. Listen to what he says—

"The chief reason that everybody is not successful is the fact that he has not enough persistence. Do one thing well throwing all your energies into it. The successful man, unlike the poor, is made, not born."

Encouraging, isn't it? Now persist a little more diligently than ever. And let us help you by caring for your money.

ALLEGED WIFE BEATER CAUGHT; CHARGES MADE

Artemio Arterussi of 705 Fallow-field avenue on Cherry alley is in the borough jail charged with beating his wife. Monday evening about 10 o'clock the police were notified that an Italian was killing his wife. They quickly responded and from the sounds that were issuing from the house and the crowd that had gathered it would be inferred that murder was being done or had already transpired.

Arterussi and Frank Farrara, another Italian, who was in the house were brought to the lockup. Farrara is a brother-in-law of Arterussi. He claimed that he was just trying to protect his sister, who was being beaten by her husband. He was later allowed to go home after he had put up a forfeit.

Arterussi says that his brother-in-law is to blame for all the trouble, and that he will "show him up" when he gets out of jail. The hearing will probably be held this evening.

ANCIENT ORDER OF HIBERNIANS PUT ON DEGREES

Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians from all parts of Washington county convened at Monongahela Sunday for the exemplification of the third and fourth degrees on a class of about 50 candidates. The class was made up from divisions of the order in Charleroi, Monongahela, Donora and McDonald.

The chief of the degree team in charge of the work was Dennis Connery of Donora. After the degree were put on a banquet was served, with the Ladies Auxiliary assisting.

Thomas Warren was toastmaster.
Various talks were given. The chaplain, Rev. P. Maher, of Roscoe, was present and was one of the speakers.
The country president of the order, Hon. William Feeney of Charleroi attended and participated in the degree work as well as in the affairs of the banquet.

RAILROAD REFUSES TO ACCEPT CARS NOT STANDARDIZED

The Pennsylvania Railroad has notified other railroads that it will no longer accept from lines with which it connects any passenger cars which do not meet the requirements of the Federal Safety Appliance acts.

To meet the Federal requirements for passenger cars, the Pennsylvania Railroad has, since the details of the laws were made known in 1911, been adding to its cars the appliances demanded. All cars have now been equipped at a cost of $144,217.

To equip its locomotives and passenger and freight cars with the safety appliances required under the Federal laws will, when completed—the Company has until July 1, 1916 to equip its freight cars—cost the Pennsylvania Railroad system $5-185,000.

Shrewd Butcher.
A certain Kralsh butcher, who sold about 20 cooked legs of pork per week, said his loss was formerly 10 per cent and now only 22 per cent in the electric oven, or a clear saving of 18 per cent. After deducting the cost of the current at two cents per unit, his savings amounted to 36 cents per leg of pork, or $15 per week extra profit. On being told that he had only saved water, he answered: "Perhaps so, but, you see, my customers pay me 28 cents per pound for it."

Discussion Over Oxygen.
That oxygen was wrongly named, and is not a generator of acids, has been the contention of scientists since Lavoisier named the gas in 1777. J.
Priestley had called it "dephlogisticated air" in 1775, and K. W. Scheele had rediscovered it in 1776 as "emphy-reatic air." Now Henry E. Armstrong, F. R. S., vindicates Lavoisier's name for it in the Proceedings of the Royal society of April 28:

"No more significant term has ever been devised, as it is undeniable that oxygen is the acidifying principle, par excellence, whether or no all acids contain oxygen. Though many oxides are basic substances, the metals in them being sufficiently positive to overmaster the negative properties of the oxygen, it is true generally that the more highly oxygenated they are the less they are basic, and that, in not a few cases, the addition of oxygen to basic oxides involves ultimately their conversion into acidic oxides."

Bird Music by Telephone.

Two naturalists have succeeded in transferring the song of the nightingale from one village to another by means of the telephone. The distance between the feathered songster and the listener was about three miles, and while the high notes were not transferred, the "deep throbs carried well." It is pointed out that the telephone receiver was quite a hundred yards from where the bird was singing, and had it been possible to place the receiver within fifty yards of the bird a very fair rendering of the song, it is believed, would have been conveyed across a much greater distance than three miles.

People Without a Country.

Why is it that Porto Rican leaders, and even the mass of the people, have voiced as time goes on an increasing restlessness? One explanation, and a just one, may lie in the fact that whereas in days gone by they were Spanish citizens, the United States has not yet seen fit to grant them citizenship. After 13 years they still enter our nation as aliens, even as they enter Spain and every other nation on the globe. They are men without a country and feel their situation to be as mortifying as it is unique.—World's News.

Another Ghost Land.
John McGuire a person who does not believe in specters or anything like specters, was lying in bed waiting to be devoured by sleep, when, in turning over, he happened to open his eyes. Behold! something that almost scared him to death. He could hardly move with fright. He watched it for a few seconds. According to his story it was a ghost, that raised its hand every little while and pointed toward him. Picking up nerve, he got out of bed and made for Friend Spectre. It raised its arm and pointed at him again. He shrank back; but when he made another move in its direction, the arm went up again. McGuire made a lunge and grabbed it.

Costly Ancestors.
Two close-fisted Missouri brothers sued a neighbor for $375 owing on a land deal. They engaged the best lawyer in their county seat. The lawyer won the case. The brothers called to see about his fee. One stayed outside and the other went in. "How much is it?" he asked.

"Well," said the lawyer, "I won't be hard on you. I have known both you boys since you were children, and I knew your pap. I guess $300 will be about right."

The inquiring brother went out sized "Lordly, George," he said to the one outside, "I'm damn glad he didn't know grandpap, too."

Old Memories.

Representative Simon D. Fess of Ohio met an old friend in Washington the other day and they fell to discussing the ravages of time, especially in regard to loss of hair.

"Yes, I have a great prejudice against being bald," remarked Fess' friend, "but I guess I'm elected."

"Well, you know the old story about the big fly and the little fly," said Fess.
"The big fly and the little fly were promenading across an expansive bald head, and the big fly remarked to the little fly: 'See this fine, wide boulevard here? I can remember when it was nothing but a narrow cowpath.'"

Monkeys and Gum.

In tropical countries the natives have many unique ways of catching monkeys. One of them as explained by a traveler is this:

The hunters walk about in short boots in sight of the monkeys. Then they take the boots off, place some gum in the bottoms and leave them on the ground, withdrawing to a great distance themselves. Presently the monkeys come down from the trees, try on the boots and when the hunters come after them the boots stick to them and they are unable to climb. Thus the inventive little monkeys are captured.

DISORDER REPORTED

Noise at Chautauqua Tent Brings Trouble for Offender

BATTLES WITH CHIEF

Disorder resulted on Meadow avenue in front of the Chautauqua tent Monday night late that for a time had the appearance of a miniature riot. It has resulted in the charge of assaulting an officer being entered against Leo Devine before Justice of the Peace H. W. Scott at North Charleroi. Chief of Police C. W. Albright who has marks on his face to show a evidence of his encounter with the man, is the informant.

When the evening performance at the Chautauqua tent began much noise was to be heard outside. Scores of people gathered in the streets there and made complete enjoyment of the Chautauqua offerings impossible. The special policeman at the Chautauqua tent found himself unable to cope with the situation and Chief of Police C. W. Albright was summoned. Boys and young men had been whooping and yelling, to the accompaniment of the reckless blowing of automobile horns standing along the curb.

Chief Albright asked the crowd to move and generally there was a disposition to obey. It is claimed that Devine refused and argued that the chief was trying to move him because of a personal matter. Tired of urging Chief Albright, finally pushed him aside. With that it is asserted Devine struck two blows, one landing on Chief Albright's forehead above his right eye and the other on his neck. Recovering quickly, the chief pulled his mace and within a brief space of time Devine was subdued. With the aid of another policeman handcuffs were placed on him.

That practically ended the noise at the Chautauqua tent. Announcements issued from the police department today are to the effect that order will be maintained at the Chautauqua tent even at the expense of detailing several special policemen to that point.

ROAD CONTRACTS IN THE COUNTY ARE COMPLETED

County Engineers Charney & Armstrong report that three of the improved roads which the county had under construction have been completed within the last few days, and the balance are nearing completion rapidly. Those just finished are

The Canonsburg-Thomas road, commencing at the end of the township brick road out of Canonsburg and ending at the reservoir of the North Strabane Water company on Little Chartiers creek, a distance of 7,600 feet; constructed of brick; John L. Elder, contractor. The final survey has been made but the estimates have not been completed.

The Cecil-Venice road, commencing at Bishop and extending a distance of 7,400 feet to the Allegheny county line. This road has been completed but not inspected. It is an important link in the improved roads from Washington to Pittsburgh, and is the route followed by most people traveling between the two cities. Constructed of brick; Offutt & Kuhn, contractors.

The Westland road, commencing at the end of the McConnell's Mills brick road and extending a distance of 1.7 miles through the village of Westland to the school house just beyond. Constructed of brick; Samuel Gamble company, contractors. Finished but not inspected. This is another important piece of nearly closes the gap of dirt roads between Washington and Hickory by way of Houshington.

This makes a total of five miles of brick road which has just been completed by the county, and leaves seven that are still under construction with a total of 8.7 miles. Contracts will be let on other roads in about two weeks so that the good work Washington county has reached the point in its road construction policy when every new section built connects up some sections already completed. In about two weeks the commissioners will give out the contract for several new roads that they are going to build and continue the good work.

BIG VOTE FOR BRUMBAUGH IS NOW INDICATED

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, though one of the four candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor, polled nearly four-fifths of the total Republican vote at the May primaries, and although his campaign was carried on by his personal friends and without an organization back of him he had only 20,000 fewer votes than were cast for William Howard Taft for President in Pennsylvania in 1912 at a general election, when the Republican organization exerted its tremendous power to the limit to get out every vote. This fact points clearly to the return of voters to the Republican fold. While there were 273,360 votes for Taft in 1912, there were 320,097 for all the candidates for the Republican nomination for governor last May, of which 253,788 were cast for Dr. Brumbaugh. The three opponents of Dr. Brumbaugh for the nomination received 66,309 votes.

The result of the primaries assures the election of Dr. Brumbaugh in November. He will conduct a vigorous campaign during which he will enter and speak in every county and meet personally as many of the voters as possible.

Dr. Brumbaugh's vote on the Republican ticket in the whole state at the primary election exceeds by 4,548 the combined votes of William Draper Lewis, the Washington party nominee; Vance C. McCormick, nominated by the Democrats; Judge Charles N. Brumm, who opposed Dr. Lewis for the progressive nomination; and City Solicitor Michael J. Ryan the opponent of McCormick for the Democratic nomination. The vote for the nominees of the other parties was as follows:

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican, 253,788; William Draper Lewis, Washington, 20,293; Vance C. McCormick, Democrat, 110,562.

In other words, the vote for Dr. Brumbaugh in the state was 20,000 more than twice that of the gubernatorial candidate polling the next highest vote, Vance C. McCormick, the Democratic nominee.

NOT DEAD, BUT

MUCH IMPROVED

Mrs. Ellen McMahan of Monessen who was injured while visiting relatives in Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July when she fell on a porch and dislocated her hip and who has in the last few days been reported dead three times, is said to be much improved. She is in a hospital in Pittsburgh and it is thought that will be able to be out in a short time.

One opinion of the trouble with the Pirates is that they have too few Honus Wagners.
